Recently you wrote of Chinese belief that living beings from other plants had visited the earth. Last night NBC aired a special on this. We have a minor luxury, an old TV set that was given us that I have rigged so we can see it from bed. Lil was tied and I'd been up 19 hours, so we went to bed to view it. As I thought, I fell asleep promptly. Rod Serling wrote and narrated the TM text. I doubt it is a fair representation of the book on which it was based, if you have further interest in the subject. I did not know there had been a serious book. It was written by a German, Eric von Dankenen. When Lil gets up, I'll add the title.
